ANNUAL REPORT 2018-19

Jai Shri Krishna

Student: There are many ways to explore the world, one of them being, equipping oneself with skills and gearing up to face the challenges of tomorrow. The best way is to acquire a good quality higher education. Education is not just a means to achieve an end but it prepares you for life. This leads us to an important question that we should ask ourselves.

Why do I want to study further? Am I studying to get a degree so that I can be ready for the job market? Or Am I studying to gain knowledge and wisdom, learn life skills, broaden my perspectives and lead a meaningful and purposeful life. I would without much ado, answer in the affirmative for the second option. This would ensure that I emerge as a better human being. Sir, I would really like to know your take on higher education?

Principal: “Education is the manifestation of the perfection already in man,” said Swami Vivekananda. Ideally, an educational institution should help one identify one’s true self, understand the inner worth and realize one’s potential. A prerequisite to achieve this would be a strong foundation provided by an institution that is committed to the cause of education transcending barriers and inculcating values in the minds of the young. With its vastly improved infrastructure and with its renewed outlook on “learning beyond classrooms” our institution has the most conducive atmosphere, where the cause of education is upheld.

True education bestows upon individuals’ strength of character, as it takes into cognizance the overall development and goes beyond mere piling up of facts and information. Education is the foundation upon which we build our future.

Moreover, in a culturally diverse and economically and technologically dynamic country like ours an additional responsibility is cast on institutions. That is to make them socially responsible and to make them the torch bearers of our culture, tradition and rich ethos of our society.
